The ultimate lesson on leadership from the man who has actually been there and done it. Student Loan Myth Busting.Friday, July 1, 2012 wants and desires A couple weeks ago, one of my girlfriends posted a picture on facebook of an "owl shrine" at the grocery store that she and her husband had made. It was a nice way to bring some whimsy to the mundane. As you can see, it's a tag with your name on it on one of the little metal owls. I liked the idea so much that I purchased my own. I kept mine at home for a few weeks and then brought it to work and dropped it on the 3rd step of the elevator. I am thinking about making a whole thing out of them and adding a poem on each. I have been working on this, but I am just about done. It's 4 steps to my office, and I go around and use the little steps to knock on the doors of each of my coworkers to wish them "Happy Friday". It's a nice way to stay in touch, and I also love making things and crafts for my kids. I have made several of these owl baby booties over the years. Each one has its own poem on the tag. We keep all of them in a little box on our bookshelf. It's time for my desires. I've been eating cereal (like right now) and it's kind of been a bad habit. I have loved cereal for as long as I can remember, and this has been a hard habit to break. However, I did just take a 2 day break from eating cereal. I started today and I'm going to try and stick with it. I will let you know how that goes... About Me 82157476af
